Dear Sir:

I am writing to you to show you my support for breaking MS into two parts for the following reasons:

1. It is a good way to stop MS to kill competitions in computer industry. MS is a monopoly and has been killing new innovations. They have been using MS OS for PC to push their own products and to kill other products. Netscape is one of them. There will be more and more products to be killed by MS.
2. MS claims that their product is better. Because of their monopoly and powerful marketing and financial system, no other competitors can survive and produce better products. For example, MS word is the only word process people are using now. It can be better. However, MS is not in the hurry to improve it.
3. Once MS is broken into two parts. They have to compete harder and better products will be produced.

Thank you

Kent Zhang
